For Sunday school Newsletter - April 2020

St.Luke’s Library is missing you all! We want to share some wonderful book ideas so that when we are once again able to be together in church, the books will be waiting for you to take them home! Remember, the promise of Easter is everyday!

God Gave us Easter by Lisa Tawn Bergren

Bergren has many wonderful picture books for children 3 and up. This book is the story of the familiar polar bear Little Cub, who is full of questions about the world around him, and wants to know what Easter really means. The beautiful, soft illustrations add to the message that “Easter is even better than Christmas”.

The Easterville Miracle by Melody Carlson

Easter is not about Easter baskets, colored eggs and candy, as a little boy named Sam and an old man named Henry learn. Together, they remind their neighbors that Easter is about the story of the Cross.

Jesus is Risen: A Pop-up book by Agostino Traini

The author/paper artist brings the story of Easter to life with vibrantly illustrated pop-up page depicting the empty tomb, the Resurrection, Jesus’ appearing to the disciples, and the Ascension, ending with Pentecost. This is a good way to learn about the events following Easter Sunday.
